

WHO GETS TO PARENT?

Join us for a documentary series following one couple's journey to grow their family.

November 10, 6-8:30pm

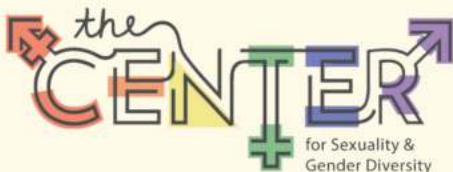

Kansas Memorial Union - Woodruff Auditorium

7:15pm - Panel

7:45pm - Catered reception

Bring a donation to support ETC's Pregnant & Parenting Resource Pantry Initiative. Scan the QR code to access donation list.

Office of Multicultural Affairs

Creating an inclusive community through social justice and academic success

WHO GETS TO PARENT?

November 10, 6-8:00pm

Kansas Memorial Union - Woodruff Auditorium

Brought to you by:

Office of Multicultural Affairs

Creating an inclusive community through social justice and academic success

HEALTH EDUCATION
RESOURCE OFFICE

CENTER FOR

LGBTQ+ Research &
Advocacy

KU

Sexuality and Gender Diversity
Faculty Staff Council

The University of Kansas

KU
SCHOOL OF LAW

The University of Kansas

Center for Racial and Social Justice

KU WOMEN, GENDER, & SEXUALITY STUDIES
The University of Kansas

KU | Office of Diversity, Equity,
Inclusion & Belonging

KU DEPARTMENT OF THEATRE & DANCE
School of the Arts

KU

THE UNIVERSITY OF KANSAS
Physics & Astronomy

SUPPORT ETC's Pregnant & Parenting Resource Pantry Initiative

The Emily Taylor Center for Women & Gender is committed to supporting the health and wellness of pregnant and parenting students at KU. As part of this commitment, ETC is beginning to collect materials for a free resource pantry initiative to benefit our pregnant and parenting students. We acknowledge and recognize that material resources are essential to the success of caregiving students. This initiative will provide access to a myriad of free products necessary for parenting young children. To support this initiative, the Emily Taylor Center is accepting donations during Non-Traditional Student Week (November 7-13).

Students United for Reproductive & Gender Equity (SURGE) is running a donation drive to benefit ETC's new pregnant and parenting resource pantry initiative that corresponds with the event Who Gets to Parent? on November 10. SURGE encourages attendees to bring a donation to the event and will collect gifts upon entrance. Please note that donations are suggested and not required for admission.

Requested donations include diapers, formula, wipes, cleaning products, and bottles as well as the many items included on ETC's wish list. Scan the QR code for the wish list.