SupportEd is a community program for K-12 students operated by Center for Supportive Communities and Douglas County Youth Programs. Students are paired with a caring adult mentor who delivers targeted support through 1.5-hour weekly meetings. Mentors teach skills, help solve problems, and offer academic and social support.

We support students in attending school.

MORE INFO

Mentoring meetings are 1.5 hours each week and held in the community.

Mentors are college students who pass background checks, health assessments, and 40 hours of training, and who receive ongoing supervision.
